PROMINENT WOMEN TO SPEAK AT BIG MEETING OF NEW CHARITY SOCIETY

MISS WEED OF BERKELEY TO OUTLINE PLANS FOR ORGANIZATION.

MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT WILL BE ENTHUSIASTIC

JESSICA PEIXOTTO, PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY AT U. C., MAY ATTEND.

At the second meeting of the Richmond Associated Charities in the First Presbyterian church, Friday night, Miss A. Weed of Berkeley, who has investigated conditions in many California cities for the State Board of Associated Charities, and who is probably one of the most able charity workers in the state, will be the principal speaker.

She will explain to the earnest members of Richmond's new organization the methods they should use to insure this city a permanent, efficient Associated Charities.

In all probability Dr. Jessica Peixotto, professor of sociology at the University of California, and a practicing attorney of San Francisco, will also attend the meeting and offer suggestions.

The meeting Friday night has been called for the purpose of furthering the work of permanent organization, laying out a plan of campaign against poverty in Richmond and discussing the proposed free employment agency.

While the organization is called the Associated Charities, the practical men and women behind it lay stress upon the fact that wherever possible they will give the applicant for assistance work instead of charity.

Representatives of all the churches of Richmond, all of the lodges and the women's clubs will be present.

MAN WEDS FOR FOURTH TIME

Robert G. Denny of Oakland, accompanied by Mrs. Mayme Daniels of the same city, were callers at the Martinez marriage bureau yesterday. Denny confessed that this is his fourth embarkation upon the sea of matrimony and his wife confessed to only one previous marriage.

$15,000 SUIT IS SET ASIDE BECAUSE OF PLAINTIFF'S DEATH

Judge Latimer on Tuesday ordered that the former order made by him submitting the demurrer to the amended complaint in the case of Bennie Silva vs. Ed. Downer for $15,000 damages be set aside on account of the death of the plaintiff.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IS ASKED BY J. P. EMERSON

HEARING ON PETITION WILL BE HELD BEFORE JUDGE CONLEY THIS AFTERNOON; SAYS NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE ON BURGLARY CHARGE.

A writ of habeas corpus will be asked for by Attorney A. F. Bray, representing J. P. Emerson, today at Martinez.

Bray will claim that there is not sufficient evidence to hold Emerson on the charge of burglarizing the dynamite car at Bay Point.

The petition for the writ will probably be heard before Judge W. M. Conley this afternoon.

When the M. M. & E. dynamiter was arrested he had in his possession a suit case full of dynamite, which had been stolen from a shipment consigned to Nevada City.

He was charged with the theft and held to answer to the Superior Court under $2000 bonds.

He was also held to answer on the charge of unlawfully having high explosives in his possession. His bonds on that charge were also fixed at $2000.

He has been unable to furnish bonds and has been forced to remain in jail while his confederates, Wilson and Carlisle, were both released on bonds furnished by the Merchants, Manufacturers and Employers' Association.

The preliminary hearing of H. C. Brockaw, Emerson's former employer, who is charged with having high explosives unlawfully in his possession and who is also out on $2000 bonds, will probably be held in Martinez some time this week, along with that of Wilson and Carlisle.

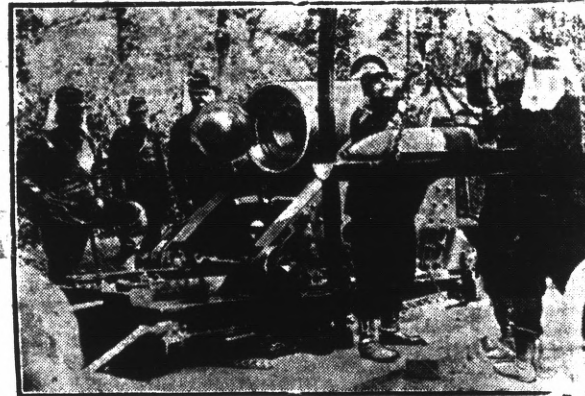

HAS TIRED FEELING; ASKS FOR 5-DAY SENTENCE

Robert Shotwell, who is frequently well "shot," says Desk Sergeant Phil Barry, registered again last night at the Hotel De Walker. Robert came in, intending to spend only the evening. His condition, however, caused him to go on the police blotter as a plain drunk. Robert agreed to the charge and said he felt he would like to have a five-day rest anyway. He has been arrested at least five times.

BRITISH SOLDIERS IN THE TRENCHES IN FLANDERS.

LOADING FRENCH GUNS BY MEANS OF A CRANE.

So heavy are the shells fired by some of the French field guns that they are loaded into the gun by means of a crane, as is seen in this photo. Note the big bore of the gun. It resembles a safe deposit vault more than anything else. After the shell is rammed home, the swinging door is closed. The gun is set in what is known as a well. The gun carriage itself works on wheels so that when set off the recoil carries it backward on a smooth platform.

BRITISH ADVANCE 8 MILES ON THE YSER; STRIKE AT GERMAN CENTER

LONDON, Dec. 8.—In Poland a great battle, with a front 300 miles long, is raging. The Germans have been victorious over part of it, while the Russians are pressing Cracow hard on the south.

Little is known of these, the greatest battles of the greatest war the world has ever seen. It is only known that thousands are dying of cold and of bullet wounds.

Along the Yser, in the western theater of war, British and French troops advanced considerably along the Yser. According to one dispatch the British advanced eight miles, which, if true, means that they are striking at the very heart of the German Army.

A Louvain dispatch declares that hordes of fresh German troops are being hurried into France.

Paris admits that the Germans in Flanders have resumed the offensive and are attacking in overwhelming numbers.

TO BUY 3 SCHOOL SITES WITH BOND MONEY

Now that the county has bought $75,000 worth of Richmond school district bonds, taken over Monday by the Board of Supervisors, the money is to be put immediately into use.

Three school sites—the Louis H. Grosjean in East Richmond, ten lots in the Pullman district and one on El Cerrito hill—are to be purchased. A school building will be erected in the annexed district with the rest of the money, besides repairing the Fairmont school and adding four rooms to the Pares school.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN SUIT ON NOTE

Testimony was taken yesterday by Judge John Roth in the suit of T. Park Jacobs against Fred R. James to collect on a promissory note. Additional documentary evidence will be put in later and the arguments of the attorneys will then be made. F. W. Smith is handling the case for Jacobs and T. H. De Lap for James.

TAXPAYERS' ASSN NOW HAS 500 MEMBERS

The membership of the Richmond Taxpayers' Association increased to 500 yesterday, when the petitions were circulated at the Santa Fe shops during the noon hour by Geo. C. Henley and Wm. Belding. More than fifty names were added there.

Henley now has 237 names on the petition he is circulating. There are four other petitions out.

SUPT. OF HOME TO BE DISMISSED FOR SUSPICIOUS ACTS

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL HEAD CALLS DEATH OF SMALL BOY MURDER, AND INSISTS UPON DISCHARGE OF EDWARD NEALE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Superintendent Edw. Neale of the Good Templars' Home for Orphans at Vallejo will be dismissed by the directors at the instigation of the State Board of Control.

Chairman Neyland of the State Board, in an open letter to the trustees of the institution, flayed Neale for his actions on two scandals, the unexplained death of Royd Burney last September, and the confession of immorality by one girl a few weeks ago.

Neyland declares that the death of little Royd Burney was plain murder, but doesn't accuse anybody. Neale explained the death by saying that the boy often climbed away in odd places. The boy was found dead in the attic of the "home."

WOMAN DENIED SALOON PERMIT

SCHOOLTEACHER OBJECTED TO DRINKING PLACE BENEATH HOME.

Application of Mrs. Mary Mitchell of San Francisco for a saloon license in the store conducted by her was refused by the Board of Supervisors on Monday. It is against the county ordinance for women to frequent saloons, and in addition to this objection a strenuous protest had been filed by the principal of the San Pablo schools, who lives upstairs over the proposed barroom.

CONTRACTOR IS GIVEN 3 DAYS' GRACE

T. M. Collins, the offending heating contractor on the new county hospital, when hailed before the supervisors Monday, claimed that the general contractor had not left the building in shape for him to continue his work and that he therefore gave it up. He took issue with the board, District Attorney McKenzie and the architect, but the upshot of the whole matter was that Collins was given until Thursday morning to have his men and material on the job and show good faith, else his bondsmen will be called upon to finish the contract.

PAVING MATERIAL IS MELTED AWAY BY WATER TEST OF COUNCILMAN

LUDEWIG SAYS AMOUNT OF BAD ROCK APPEARS TOO SMALL FOR HARM.

WILL TRY RATTLET TEST TODAY

PROTESTANTS CLAIM INFERRIOR WORK HAS ALREADY BEEN USED.

Rotten rock for use in the paving of Twenty-third street, which caused complaint to be made to the council Monday night, proved to be not rock at all, according to the statement of Councilman Otto Ludewig yesterday after he had dissolved it in water.

"The amount of the bad rock in the whole pile, however," said Ludewig, "appears to be very small. From the appearance of the outside of the pile I should say the percentage of bad material is so small as to make no difference in the work. The rest of the rock appears good."

"I have been told that inside the pile is a great deal of unfit material. But we have the city engineer and the inspector to watch out for that, so if any damaging amount of the rotten rock shows up when the pile is dug down it will certainly be condemned and not allowed in the pavement."

The protestants, however, claim that at least 50 per cent of the rock is bad and that the recent rains have dissolved the red rock on the outside of the piles on Twenty-third street, leaving the good blue rock on the outside.

City Engineer Chapman will today take samples of the crushed rock to Oakland, where it will be given a "rattler" test. In the "rattler" test the rock is subjected to a severe shaking up with other hard materials to test its wearing quality. The "rotten" rock objected to is said to be of peculiar formation and to stand the abrasion test well when dry, but to almost entirely dissolve in water.

There are more than 20 carloads of the rock and already about one-fourth of the pavement on Twenty-third, between Macdonald and Bissell, has been laid, using this material, claim the complainants.

CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE MEET

The Intermediate League of the Wesley M. E. Church last night held their regular monthly business meeting in the church. The young people had a very enjoyable time, playing games. Pop corn, nuts and fruit were served.

A. D. Crew and W. Matthie of Los Angeles also registered at the Imperial yesterday.

W. D. Bell and E. P. Worley had a big lead for trustees. Delegates to the Alameda Council, a close race, with V. D. Atkins, B. F. Bowbeer, J. Connelly, N. H. Robothan, P. S. Slattery and T. T. White as the candidates.

The total vote cast was $23. The results will not be known until some time this morning.

AUTO TRUCK MAROONED IN MUD ON TENTH AND PACIFIC

Stuck in the mud so deep that one hind wheel is completely buried, an immense auto truck belonging to the Motor Express Company, is marooned on Tenth street near the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. plant.

The driver swung to one side of the road yesterday afternoon to let another vehicle pass and the hind wheel hit a soft spot. Ten horses were attached to the truck, but their combined effort with that of the truck itself was unable to get the big van out to solid ground.

THE INCOMPETENT PEOPLE

Mr. Citizen, you have been declared incompetent to choose the location for your city hall.

Do you agree with the sage judges who ruled that you didn't have enough intelligence to say where your own buildings should be located?

Regardless of where you think the city hall should be located, don't you think that you should have something to say about it?

Or do you prefer to leave all such matters to your city council?

The Daily News doesn't care where the city hall is put, but it most emphatically believes that the people of Richmond, its citizens who pay the expense of running the city government, have the right to say where its public buildings should be.

That the people of Richmond, and the state, for the ruling of the District Court of Appeals affects the whole state, will passively stand aside while their prized direct legislation scheme of government is walloped, is unbelievable.

Compared with the effect of the ruling on government by the people, the definite settling of the location for Richmond's city hall becomes insignificant.

The city council of Richmond has said to YOU, "Stand aside. WE are the brains of Richmond."

Do you believe that?

THE JINGOES' UNION.

President Wilson declared yesterday that while he didn't know of the existence of a lobby for the stirring up of military discussion, he believed there was such an organized effort.

That there is an organized effort to spread the gospel of militarism in this country is apparent.

Great newspapers all over the country have systematically harped upon the possibility of the United States going to war. We are frightened with accounts of a totally inadequate navy and army. We are told that there is imminent danger of being drawn into the world war.

Gardner howls for an investigation into our state of preparedness. Demands are made that we lick Turkey, Mexico, England, any country, just so that we may have war.

Somebody ought to page the gentlemen that make their living by manufacturing arms and ammunition, and ask them if they favor war or peace.

Boy, page Mr. Steel Trust!

Mr. S. T., are you in favor of peace, or are you extremely patriotic?

"Never let it be said that I am in favor of standing by while the Stars and Stripes are insulted. I'm for maintaining our national honor every time. Besides, it takes a lot of steel to be truly patriotic."

THE FABLE OF THE PEOPLE WHO WERE STUNG.

For years a great division of a great country had been wretchedly governed.

After many years the people awakened and demanded that THEY have something to say about the government.

Courageously they fought for the privilege and at last it was won. They had taken to themselves the right to institute laws, repeal laws, amend existing laws and to nominate candidates for office and recall officials that were found incompetent.

It was a glorious victory and all the great country of which these people were citizens applauded.

Many fine words were said of the victory. The common people at last could say that they were the government.

Hardly had they finished congratulating themselves when a high court gravely took the matter under advisement, and after much deliberation solemnly declared that the INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM was all right to a CERTAIN EXTENT.

"Ye may govern yourselves. Oh, ye common people," they said, "but go no further in this self-government than this line."

And they marked a line so all might see, and the high court said that on this side of the line they could have direct legislation, but on this side they could not. For, they said, on this side is legislative matters and on this administrative.

And all the throng of common people turned away sorely puzzled.

"We thought," said they, "that with direct legislation we would HAVE THE RIGHT TO GOVERN OURSELVES. What is this fine distinction between 'administrative' and 'legislative'? We are bewildered."

And the wiser ones of the common people, who had fought long and hard for true democracy, smiled grimly and said to each other.

"Stung again!"

A Mistaken Identity

By F. A. MITCHEL

Arnold Tucker, aged nineteen, met and wooed Alice Brainard, aged sixteen. Both being too young to marry—so their parents thought—consent was given to the match only on condition that they part, not to see each other for two years. If they were then of the same mind no objection would be raised to their union. They were not to correspond, except during the last week of the two years' separation, at which time they would need to make arrangements for their meeting.

One morning Albert Tucker (not a relative nor even an acquaintance of the said Arnold Tucker) was handed a letter by a postman addressed in a feminine hand and asked if it belonged to him. The writing was so indistinct that Tucker could not be sure, but replied by taking it in with other letters handed him at the same time. On opening it he read the simple announcement:

I will be at the Grand hotel on Tuesday and shall be pleased to see you that evening. You will find me in Parlor B, second floor, at 8 o'clock. ALICE.

Albert Tucker knew a great many girls, a number of whom he had made love to for the purpose, as he expressed it, of passing the time, and was not conscious of any of them accepting his attentions through any more serious motive. He did not remember any particular Alice, nor did he recognize the chirography. He simply made a mental note of the appointment and when the evening came around reached the Grand hotel at 8 o'clock and went to Parlor B.

A young lady whom he had never seen before rose from her seat with a happy smile to meet him, but the smile faded into a look of perplexity.

"I never believed," she said, "that two short years could have so changed you."

If Albert Tucker was anything he was gallant.

"Two long years, you mean."

"Have they been long to you?" something of the smile returning with a faint blush.

"Each has been an eternity."

The lady looked up tenderly out of a pair of heaven's blue eyes. Bert did not mistake; it would have been brutal for him to mistake—at least so he considered it. He bent forward and kissed her lips.

Meanwhile he was racking his brain to place the girl among those to whom he had on some previously forgotten occasion made love. He could remember a Betty, a Louise, an Ethel, but no Alice. As for the last patronymic he could remember only two of them. Miss Brainard resembled a girl he had met at a house party at the home of his friend Charles Beale a couple of years before and had become "spoons" with. He suspected that she was this girl, but was not sure. He determined to take some risk to find out.

"I would not suppose," he said, "that so much would happen since that delightful period we spent at Charlie's."

"Charlie? What Charlie?"

"True, you were not with us at Charlie Beale's. Two years is a long while, especially when parted from one we love. Events become confused."

"I hope persons have not become confused in your case. Was there some girl with whom you remember to have had a 'delightful period'?"

"Not at all. Now I remember: it was a stag party."

"A stag party! Do men have delightful remembrances of stag parties? But this is not pertinent to our meeting. The question with us is, having been parted for two years, having grown older, do we wish to accept the promise made us when we separated?"

Bert would have given worlds to know what that promise was; indeed, he must know what it was or give up this struggle at pretense.

"I have forgotten," he stammered. "Just what that promise was."

Had an ice bolt been shot between the two it could not have effected a greater change. The girl started, then recoiled from him.

"What have I done?" he gasped.

"What have you done? You have stabbed me to the heart. While I have counted the months, the weeks, the days till we might take advantage of that promise, you have forgotten what it was. Oh, heavens! What shall I do?"

She threw herself on a sofa and buried her face in the cushions.

"There is something wrong here," said Bert in desperation. "Are you sure I am?"

She started up. "You are Arnold?"

"I am not. I am Tucker."

"Arnold Tucker, and you have for gotten—"

"I'm Albert Tucker."

"Albert?"

"Commonly called Bert. And now, for heaven's sake, do tell me who you are! I must admit I can't place you."

Tucker never forgot that withering look.

It was some time before Miss Brainard deigned to inform him who she was, and there was an explanation. Tucker was a cool chap. He apologized for his share of the mistake.

"I can only offer to return the one thing you have given me."

"What is that?" asked Miss Brainard.

"The kiss."

A smile broke into a laugh. The real Tucker never appeared, and the spurious Tucker eventually married the girl.

Editor Daily News:

California has led the United States in inaugurating and developing the direct form of government. Her people have insisted upon their right to say at any time what measures shall or shall not be passed, who shall represent them and how those representatives shall deport themselves.

The coveted and sacred right of initiative was intended to give and should give the people the right to decide whether or not a public vote shall be cast upon any question—whether the people themselves are to have the naming of the questions that shall be put to the ballot.

The city council of Richmond has been the first to ignore the privilege of the initiative. When the people—the majority of the authorized voters of Richmond—wished to vote upon a question of vital interest to them and to those that come after them, the city council refused to grant this privilege.

Representatives of the people in excess of the number required by law upon the common council and asked that a certain step be not taken until the people had exercised their right to express an opinion with the ballot.

The city council ignored the request, depriving the people of Richmond of a most valued privilege—an astonishing injustice and insult to the principle of freedom that brought the initiative into existence—a high-handed denial of the people's rights. If such should transpire, the lauded privilege of the initiative is merely a name—providing no cure for the evils of obnoxious legislation—a reputed remedy, but in reality no remedy at all.

It has always been considered a sovereign right of the people to select sites for the edifices wherein the legislators meet—whether of city, county or state. The citizens of Los Angeles voted on the question of a site for a new city hall. A referendum was held to decide whether or not the State Capitol should be removed from Sacramento to Berkeley. These are but two instances of what has been regarded as a sacred privilege.

Now that the Appellate Court has handed down its decision in the Richmond city hall site case, it would seem as if the people by no means have the say in their own affairs that they fondly imagined they had—that is, the verdict is final, which it is believed by all thinking people cannot possibly be the case. It would be too sharp a curb upon the onward march of freedom.

The people of Richmond will vote—will say where and how their public edifice shall be built. If the present laws be so manipulated by learned legal experts that this right is denied them, then will they rise up in common with the people of all California to create new laws and new law makers that will place the right of deciding such important questions where is rightfully belongs—into the hands of the people. Let the people rule.

"In unity there is strength, united we stand divided we fall."

MINERS' OFFICERS URGE PEACE; EXPECT DELEGATES TO ASSENT

DENVER, Dec. 8.—Vice President Hayes of the United Mine Workers of America, today read to the special convention of Colorado miners. In session here, the recommendations of the mine workers' executive board. The recommendations follow:

"In view of an urgent request from the nation's chief executive, we deem it a part of wisdom to accept his suggestion and terminate the strike in Colorado. In our opinion, to wage the strike further would not mean additional gain to our members. If the operators reject the good offices of the mediation commission, appointed in good faith by the President, upon their shoulders will rest the responsibility for any future trouble in the mining fields of Colorado."

The proposition urged the strikers to cancel the strike and place their interests in the hands of the commission headed by Seth Low. The convention delegates referred the matter to a committee of seven. It was expected that the executive board's recommendations would be adopted overwhelmingly.

PLAN ORGANIZING CAMPAIGN IN ALAMEDA CO.

OAKLAND, Dec. 8.—A committee of nine members to formulate plans for organization among the unions of the county has been appointed by the Alameda County Labor Council. It is recommending that the special committee be appointed, the report said:

"This committee should work for co-operative unionism. Their aim should be to get every working man and woman into their particular organization, and not keep them out by extorting large initiation fees, eliminate the practically closed union, establish a system of first come, first served, and thereby abolish the waiting list or auxiliary, as it is also termed."

CONTRACTOR MAY FORFEIT JOB ON HOSPITAL

MARTINEZ, Dec. 8.—The contract for the installing of the heating plant of the annex to the county hospital will probably be taken away from T. M. Collins and the Globe Indemnity Company, which went security for Collins, will have to complete the work.

Collins has failed to put in an appearance for some time and Sheriff Veale was yesterday directed to find him. If he can't be found the surety company will take over the job, on which they figure to lose $150.

HINDOO KILLER OF GIRL INSANE, IS STATEMENT

That Said Ali Kahn, the Hindoo who murdered Rosa Domingo at Stege and who is now in San Quentin for the crime, has lost his reason, is the report received by Sheriff Veale yesterday.

Since his entrance into the penitentiary Khan has been morosely silent. Recently he has talked to himself in his cell, saying meaningless things.

It is reported that a movement has been started by friends of Khan to have him removed to a insane asylum.

Tales of a Million Dollars

The Lot Opposite

February 7, 1913, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Golding, of San Francisco, visiting Richmond decided to buy lot 12, Block 17, Nicholl-Macdonald Business Center Tract. They agreed to pay Burg Bros., Inc., $135.00 cash and $135.00 a month the price of the lot being $1,350—at that time.

Last Sunday, November 22d, they visited Richmond again to look at their lot. They had been out of touch with Richmond prices, but they were soon to find out about them.

For the lot directly across the street from them—practically the same lot as their own—had just changed hands for $2,500—$1,000 cash.

They have paid to date $432 cash for their lot. If they sold it at the figure above, they would make a profit of $1,150 or 286 PER CENT!

But they are holding their lot!

It is shrewdness and judgment like theirs that makes a successful investor. No one can make YOU shrewd if you're not; but we have a book that will help your judgment a whole lot.

Pen Paralysis! Have you got it?

NO, we do not mean merely paralysis of the fingers. We mean another kind of paralysis far more serious; the kind that paralyzes the pen writer—not sometimes but always.

Pen writing in this age means needless time waste, needless labor waste, needless fatigue. Every one who continues to write with the pen in this day of the typewriter is placing himself under a heavy time and labor handicap, a handicap which means partial paralysis of all his energies.

The cure for pen paralysis, the new and certain cure, is the

HERB DOCTORS MAKE SPECIAL OFFER TO DIS- COURAGED SUFFERERS

Unusual Opportunity to try
These Herbs at Cost

To convince the most doubtful, we will give to any one mentioning this announcement a seven-days' treatment of herbs at half price. This is barely enough to cover the cost of the herbs. At the end of this trial you will be able to judge for yourself just how efficient this herb treatment is. We have letters of thanks for cures of almost every known disease. These letters from local and out-of-town sufferers are open to your inspection at our office. The following letter shows the high regard in which we are held by our many grateful patients:

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I have been suffering from kidney and lung trouble for several years and treated by many of the most prominent physicians in this city, but none of them seemed to do me any good. I also visited the famous springs of California with the same result, and then I gave up all hope of ever being cured. As a last resort I was advised by an old friend of mine to call and go to see Drs. Chan & Kong the next day, and without asking me any questions they told me they understood my case. I began the treatment immediately, and after two days I felt like a new person. So I continued the treatment for three weeks, at which time I was entirely cured. Indeed, they gave me many more years to live. I write this testimonial in my gratitude and for the benefit of any person who is suffering from any cause whatsoever. I remain very sincerely yours,

MRS. M. SMITH.

DRAMA OF WORLD WAR AT THE RICHMOND

"One in Millions," a big feature film showing tonight at the Richmond theater, brings home to those who see it the horrors of modern warfare. What the soldiers of the Allies and of Germany had Austria are forced to undergo on the bloody battlefields of Europe can be realized after one has seen this thrilling picture lay.

The story makes a strong appeal for peace and should be seen by everybody.

Laura Sawyer has the leading role, playing the wife of Jurgens, a soldier who is killed in battle.

The drama comes to a gripping climax with a spectacular fire scene.

The story is particularly modern and for that reason intensely interesting. The management declares that by showing it they are not violating the spirit of President Wilson's neutrality proclamation.

EDDIE COLLINS SOLD TO CHICAGO AMERICANS FOR $50,000

CONNIE MACK LETS GO GREAT ATHLETIC STAR

SPEEDY PLAYER FEDS WERE AFTER SAID TO HAVE BROUGHT BIG SUM.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—Eddie Collins, star second baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, was today sold to the Chicago Americans.

According to Connie Mack, manager of the champion Athletics, negotiations have been under way for some time and the deal was consummated in New York today, the contracts being signed in that city.

Mack declined to make public the amount of money involved in the deal, but it is believed to have been a record breaking sum. One report says the sale price was $50,000.

The Federal League last year tried to get Collins, but he remained loyal to the Athletics and last summer signed a contract for a term of years. It was reported that the Federals had offered Collins $25,000 a year for three years.

In Collins the Chicago Americans obtain one of the greatest second basemen in history. He is 27 years old and is a graduate of Columbia University, where he received his early baseball training.

Since he became a regular on the Athletics he was the star of Connie Mack's famous $100,000 infield. He is one of the quickest witted men on the ball field, and this, combined with his wonderful skill as a fielder, runner and batter, has made him one of the kings of the diamond.

Regular practice in the gymnasium last night had lots of pep in it and "Cap" stated after the show-ers last night that they were sure showing up better every day. He is determined on winning the Livermore game, and Able usually gets what he wants.

As no further word has been received concerning the girls' game with Livermore, it is taken for granted that it will be played as per schedule, Friday night, between halves with the boys' game. Yesterday afternoon an excellent practice was held.

5 MINUTE REVIEW OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—What is taken to be the announcement of the end of the administration's big business regulative program was President Wilson's statement at the start of his message to Congress today.

"The goal at last," he said, "lies clear and fair before business and it is a road to unclouded success. It is a road that every honest man and every man interested in the welfare of the nation may walk in perfect safety."

A brief summary of the whole message is as follows:

He urged the passage of the shipping bill, so that this country can take advantage of the commercial opportunities afforded by the war.

Strongly advocated the endorsement by the Senate of measures, already passed by the House, unlocking resources of the public domain and encouraging the use of navigable streams for the generation of power. Commended the measure that would pave the way towards independence of the Philippines. Said there wasn't time to deal with the matter of rural credits. Reminded the Senate that the convention for safety at sea waited its approval. Said provision for surveying and charting country's coasts was important.

Admitted that we cannot put in the field a nation of armed men and added that we never will be able to as long as we hold our present form of government.

Spoke favorably of system by which every citizen will be familiar with the use of arms as a substitute for a standing army. Ended with:

"We have not been negligent of national defense. We shall learn and profit by the lesson of every experience and every new circumstance and what is needed will be adequately done."

sion that where there is much grading and filling that the ground should be allowed to settle.

Karl M. Nielsen of Martinez, who has the contract for the three steel and concrete bridges to be erected between San Pablo and Pinole, states that he will start work just as soon as he can get his men and material upon the ground.
